RESEARCH & CREATIVITY GRANTS PROGRAM

Research & Creativity Grant
w/ Combined Undergraduate Research Internship
2020-2021

Deadline March 1, 2020

THE PROGRAM

1. The Emeritus College provides an opportunity for emeritus professors to work with gifted undergraduates to conduct research or creative programs in their field of expertise. The Undergraduate Research Internship also provides talented undergraduates with a capstone research or creative experience under the tutelage of renowned emeritus professors that will lead to publication, performance or display before graduation. Grants are given for worthy projects that would enhance the scholarly or creative lives of their recipients, their intellectual community, and benefit the College and the university, either directly or indirectly by association. Funds for the Program are entirely derived from contributions made to the Emeritus College Gifts and Grants Account at the ASU Foundation. No local ASU or state funds are used except for administrative costs in the College office. Grants will ordinarily lie in the range of $500 - $3,000. The maximum grant award is $3,000.

TYPES OF PROJECTS CONSIDERED

1. Research.
2. Scholarly and scientific projects with potential for publication.
3. Creative and artistic projects, including graphic and plastic arts, creative writing, musical composition, dance, and theatrical works with production costs, and performance costs with a potential for public presentation.
4. Teaching, including curriculum development and trial, textbook writing, innovative teaching methods, public lecturing, and public education (K-12, adult, and other).
5. Mentoring, including projects and research.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTION

1. Regular, Associate and Affiliate Members of the Emeritus College are eligible to submit proposals if they have reaffirmed their membership in the college during the current year’s Membership Contribution Campaign. NOTE: Member Spouses, Surviving Spouse members, or members fully employed in an academic institution are not eligible for this Program.
2. Projects are selected for award on the basis of their feasibility, scholarly value, creativity, qualifications of the author(s) and potential impact. Authors should describe the project in detail, including sections on the motivation, significance and purpose of the project, as well as anticipated outcomes.
RESTRICTIONS

1. Neither the salary nor travel of the principal investigator will be covered by the grant with the exception of extended travel to a location (e.g. library, laboratory, etc.) where the proposed research or project will be conducted. In no event may travel account for more than 50% of the requested budget. NOTE: The Emeritus College has a separate travel grant program to assist members traveling to conferences in which they will play a substantive role.

2. Awards will not be considered for assistance in publication projects for which a contract has already been signed or agreed upon with a publisher.

3. Individuals may not receive more than two consecutive grant awards. All second consecutive grant applications must be accompanied by an interim progress report for the first grant award.

4. Only one grant application may be submitted for all annual grant opportunities.

5. Awards will not be provided for commonly available capital items, such as computers and software, which can be used for many purposes.

POST AWARD DISSEMINATION

1. Publications, patents, displays, performances, etc. which result from any grant must recognize the Emeritus College for its financial support.

2. A final report on the Project must be submitted to the Emeritus College within one year of the award’s termination. Failure to submit a report will result in ineligibility of the awardee to receive future grants under this Program.

3. Awardees are expected to present their accomplishments at the annual Emeritus College Symposium (or other College presentation venue), submit an article describing their project to Emeritus Voices, and contribute examples of the final products of their work to the Emeritus College.

PROCEDURES

1. The deadline for RCG-URI application and proposal submissions is March 1, 2020.

2. The RCG-URI award notification target date is April 15, 2020.

3. The RCG-URI award payment will be disbursed during the grant period of July 1, 2020 through June 30, 2021.

4. Proposals must include the information requested on the accompanying application form, a title and an abstract (around 100 words), with the body of the proposal no longer than 500 words, excluding the application form, cover letter, illustrations, reference citations, and itemized budget.

5. The budget request must be as specific as possible in description and justification.

6. Application forms and Proposals must be submitted, along with an abbreviated curriculum vitae, in electronic form as a PDF attachment to emerituscollege@asu.edu, and directed in the subject line to "Research and Creativity Grants Committee." Material objects are not to be submitted: Photographic representations must suffice.

7. After the application/proposal deadline the Research and Creativity Grants Committee will review the proposals. During the review the proposals may be sent to one or more members of the Emeritus College having expertise in the proposal subject for comment.

8. Recommendations made by the Research and Creativity Grants Committee will be addressed to the College Council for final approval and referral to the Dean of the College for action.

UNDERGRADUATE RESEARCH INTERNSHIP PROGRAM
2020-2021

Deadline March 1, 2020

THE PROGRAM

1. The Emeritus College in collaboration with the ASU Office of Knowledge Enterprise Development announces the Emeritus College Undergraduate Research Internship (URI) Program for 2020-2021. Up to five URI grants will be awarded to qualified undergraduate students who are within four semesters of graduation at the time of their appointment and who are in good academic standing in the University. The URI carries a stipend of $2000 that is paid directly to the student intern. This grant is awarded in conjunction with an Emeritus College Research and Creativity Grant (RCG) of up to $3,000 to a member of the College who assumes the responsibility of directing the student’s research project through to completion. The emeritus research mentor is responsible for selecting the student intern with whom to work.

2. The research or creative project undertaken in this program should lead to a publication or other form of public dissemination (display, performance, etc.) for which the student intern receives explicit recognition as author, co-author or similar designation. It should entail in a non-trivial fashion original work by the student intern.

3. The student intern may, but need not, be identified to the emeritus mentor before submission of the Program application. Selection of the student Intern is left up to the emeritus mentor, but the Emeritus College should be notified of the student Intern’s identity as soon as possible after the award date.

TYPES OF PROJECTS CONSIDERED

1. Research and other scholarly projects with potential for publication.
2. Creative and artistic projects, including graphic and plastic arts, creative writing, musical composition, dance, and theatrical works with production costs, and performance costs with a potential for public presentation.
3. Teaching, including curriculum development and trial.
4. Mentoring, including projects and research.

CRITERIA FOR SELECTION

1. Regular, Associate and Affiliate Members of the Emeritus College are eligible to submit proposals if they have reaffirmed their membership in the college during the current year’s Membership Contribution Campaign. NOTE: Member spouses, surviving spouses, or members fully employed in an academic institution are not eligible for this Program.

2. Projects are selected for award on the basis of their feasibility, scholarly value, creativity, qualifications of the author(s) and potential impact. Authors should describe the project in detail, including sections on the motivation, significance and purpose of the project, as well as anticipated outcomes.

REstrictions

1. Restrictions relating to the emeritus member RCG award are as enumerated in that program announcement. The URI award may be used as a living stipend to the student intern, in which case it will be paid out in equal increments throughout an appropriate interval during the award period. It may, however, at the student intern’s choosing, be used for tuition, textbooks, research expenses or travel associated with the project, in which case it will be dispersed accordingly. The student intern will make payment disbursement arrangements with the Emeritus College Office Manager.

2. The student intern and the emeritus mentor will sign an agreement indicating the (1) expectations each have of the other in the pursuit and completion of the proposed project, and (2) the expected outcome of their work.

The signed Student-Mentor Agreement must be filed at the Emeritus College before the release of funds.

Procedures

1. Submit pages 3 and 6 with your proposal to be considered.

2. The deadline for application and proposal submission is March 1, 2020.

3. The RCG-URI award notice target date is April 15, 2020.

4. The RCG-URI award will be disbursed during the grant period of July 1, 2020 through June 30, 2021.

Disclaimer

The College and the ASU Foundation make no claim to income derived from funded projects.
